PROFILE

As a committed MERN stack developer, I have experience with Express.js, React, MongoDB, and Node.js. My main goal is to build dynamic, user-friendly web apps. I'm great at problem-solving and working with others. I'm also proficient in Agile approaches and CI/CD methods. I have completed several projects with success, enhancing user experience and application speed. I'm looking for a demanding position that allows for ongoing education and professional development.
